Summit, N. C.—"My wife had been ailing for nearly 12 years," writes Mr. Church, "and at times was unable to leave the house. She suffered agony with her side and back. We tried our family physician for many years without relief. After his treatments all failed, she began to take Cardui, and gained in weight at once. Now she is red and rosy as a school girl. Mrs. Church recommends Cardui to all suffering women."

Cardui is more successful than other remedies because it is "different." It is in a class by itself.

In over half a century more than a million women have been helped to rosy health and happiness by using this well-known and scientific woman's remedy.

Cardui acts specifically on the weakened womanly organs. It helps to refresh the worn-out nerves, and is the ideal remedy for young and old.

As a tonic for women it has brought remarkable results.

As a remedy for women's ills, its friends say it has no equal.

Try Cardui.

WOMAN SENTENCED TO TERM IN JAIL

Convicted of Aiding Nephew in Attempt to Escape From Prison.

STUDENTS TURNED AWAY

Important Meeting of Laymen to Be Held Wednesday Night.

Times-Dispatch Bureau, 109 North Sycamore Street, Petersburg, Va., September 26.

In the United States court today Mrs. Ann Tibbs, of Richmond, was convicted of the charge of aiding and abetting her nephew, Junius A. Williamson, in an attempt to escape from the city jail, and was sentenced to six months' imprisonment and to pay a fine of $5 and costs.

Junius Williamson was a prisoner in the jail, awaiting sentence to the penitentiary for bigamy. Two hacks were secretly conveyed to him, with which he attempted to saw his way out of his steel cell. When detected he stated that the saws had been brought to him by his aunt, Mrs. Tibbs, who had been permitted to visit him.

Mrs. Tibbs when subsequently arrested made no denial of the charge. She said she had been induced to commit the act by a supposed friend of her nephew. This was one of the points made by counsel for Mrs. Tibbs to-day, and the great devotion of the woman to her nephew was fully shown. Another point made by the defendant's counsel—Peck and Beck, Richmond—was that the building from which Williamson sought to escape is not a jail, and nowhere in the city's records is named or designated as such. Evidence was introduced, however, to prove that for half a century or more the jail has been known and used as a prison, and the point was overruled by the court.
